

April 20, 2007

Weekend

LIFE
SECTION E

On TV

By Frank Mirabella, Getty Images

Pimp My Ride: Arnold Schwarzenegger, right, helps Xzibit and the crew turn a '65 Chevy Impala green.

It's a green day for television

Is it too rainy to plant a tree? Are all the copies of An Inconvenient Truth checked out at the video store? Relax: The TV schedule surrounding Earth Day on Sunday features many educational and entertaining "green" shows, so you don't need to leave your couch to go green. Plug in your Energy Star-rated television for these highlights from USA TODAY's Carol Motsinger.

Sunday

Pimp My Ride, 1 p.m. ET/PT, MTV. California Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger joins host/rapper Xzibit to transform a classic car into a modern green machine with guts: The Galpin Auto Sports team puts an 800-horsepower diesel engine in a '65 Chevy Impala.